2014 LOUISIANA TEACHER PREPARATION PROGRAM FACT BOOK

INTRODUCTION

Louisiana has been a state in which teacher preparation programs have been committed to preparing effective new teachers whose students demonstrate gains in student learning. From 1999-2010, all teacher preparation programs in Louisiana participated in Teacher Preparation Transformation 1.0 (See Appendix A) which involved the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education creating more rigorous teacher certification requirements, all teacher preparation programs partnering with PK-12 school/district personnel to redesign all teacher preparation programs, all programs being redesigned to address state and national teacher and student content standards, all programs increasing the number of clock hours for candidates to be engaged in clinical experiences, and all redesigned programs being evaluated by national experts. All pre-redesign programs were terminated, and all redesigned programs that met the more rigorous state requirements were approved for implementation by the Louisiana Board of Regents and Board of Elementary and Secondary Education. Available data were collected, and it was determined that needs originally identified in 1999-2000 were being addressed as a result of the redesign efforts.

Louisiana is now engaging in Teacher Preparation Transformation 2.0 to address new needs that extend beyond the work that occurred with Teacher Preparation Transformation 1.0. (See Appendix B) Several new needs involve the development of greater collaboration between teacher preparation programs and schools/districts to ensure that candidates are provided high quality clinical experiences while being supervised by highly effective teachers, providing a teacher preparation curriculum that involves in-depth instruction to prepare new teachers' students to successfully master college and career-ready standards, ensuring that candidates are "learner-ready" when they start teaching, and reporting accurate information about teacher preparation programs to the public. Teacher preparation programs in Louisiana have integrated the new State content standards and new Compass teacher evaluation expectations into the curriculum as of fall 2013 and continue to deepen their own knowledge and the knowledge of their candidates as they prepare candidates to successfully address the new standards and aligned assessments.

The creation of the 2014 Teacher Preparation Data Dashboards and Teacher Preparation Program Fact Book are two new endeavors that are being voluntarily implemented to address the need to provide the public with access to outcome data about teacher preparation programs in Louisiana. The Teacher Preparation Data Dashboards provide a two-page summary of relevant data about individual teacher preparation programs in Louisiana. The Teacher Preparation Program Fact Book provides listings of data found in the individual data dashboards plus additional contextual data. All teacher preparation programs discussed in the Teacher Preparation Program Fact Book have voluntarily signed data agreements with the Louisiana Board of Regents and Louisiana Department of Education to share data about their candidates and to have aggregate level data reported to the public in new Teacher Preparation Data Dashboards.

The Teacher Preparation Program Fact Book is a living document that will undergo changes on an ongoing basis as new data become available to address additional needs identified by the public. Outcome data in the 2014 fact book pertains to cohorts of 2011-12 program completers or earlier completers who taught in Louisiana's schools during 2012-13 or previous years. New Teacher Preparation Data Dashboards and fact books will be created in the future as new cohorts of teacher candidates complete programs and teach in public schools in Louisiana.

CURRENT AND FUTURE DATA

Louisiana obtained permission from Teacher Preparation Analytics to use a new structure called 2020 Key Effectiveness Indicators developed by Michael Allen, Edward Crowe, and Charles Coble, co-partners of Teacher Preparation Analytics to develop the Louisiana Teacher Preparation Data Dashboards. (<http://caepnet.org/accreditation/caep-accreditation/caep-accreditation-resources/building-an-evidence-based-system>) This work was commissioned by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation.

As part of the dashboard design, the State identified data to examine the following four assessment categories for the 2020 Key Effectiveness Indicators: Candidate Selection Profile, Knowledge and Skills for Teaching of Completers, Program Productivity and Alignment to State Needs of Completers, and Performance as Classroom Teachers. Details pertaining to each of the categories can be found in Appendix C. The four categories are clearly identified within the Teacher Preparation Data Dashboard (See Appendix D). The State has also identified areas where data are not currently available. New data will be collected to address those areas.

As an example, survey data were previously collected from first year teachers regarding the extent to which teacher preparation programs prepared program completers to address the State standards for teachers. The results were reported during 2002-03, 2003-04, and 2004-05 within the Institutional Reports for the Preparation of Teachers (<http://www.regents.la.gov/page/institutional-reports-for-preparation-of-teachers>). The results were positive, and it was possible to identify specific areas (e.g., classroom management, working with diverse learners) where further development needed to occur. However, feedback from the public indicated that they wanted to see outcome data about performance since survey data reflected teacher perspectives instead of actual performance of new teachers who completed teacher preparation programs. Thus, the administration of surveys was suspended and a focus was placed upon collecting outcome data which is now being reported in the data dashboards. Recently the need to collect survey data has been voiced, and the Board of Regents will work with the teacher preparation programs to develop an assessment and collect survey data for the 2015 Teacher Preparation Data Dashboards. In addition, additional research will need to occur during 2014-15 to better understand the meaning of the survey data. A study funded by the Carnegie Corporation of New York was conducted in Louisiana during 2007-09 to identify factors that have a positive impact upon the success of teachers who complete programs. (http://www.regents.la.gov/assets/docs/2014/11/Qualitative\_Report9.24.09-Yr6.pdf) The study identified a pattern that needs further investigation. The pattern indicated that new teachers whose students demonstrated the greatest growth in learning rated their teacher preparation programs more rigorously than new teachers whose students demonstrated the lowest growth in learning. If new teachers are prepared by their programs to be more reflective and critical when working with children, those same behaviors may be evident when they evaluate the teacher preparation programs that prepared them.

Louisiana is also one of 7 states in which the Louisiana Department of Education has received a Network for Transforming Educator Preparation (NTEP) grant from the Council for Chief State School Officers to identify changes in state policies for teacher licensure, teacher preparation program approval, and reporting information to improve preparation programs. Information from the dashboards will be used to help inform decisions pertaining to changes in policies.

STATE, REGIONAL, AND NATIONAL APPROVAL/ACCREDITATION OF TEACHER PREPARATION

A listing has been provided of the approval/accreditation status of all teacher preparation programs in Louisiana. All teacher preparation programs listed have obtained state approval from the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education for candidates who complete the programs to be certified to teach in Louisiana if they meet all state certification requirements. All public and private universities are regionally accredited as degree-granting higher education institutions by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC). All public universities have degrees that have been approved by the Board of Regents (BoR). All public and private universities have obtained national program accreditation from the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC) or Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). Private providers are only required to obtain approval from the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education to operate teacher preparation programs in Louisiana.

PERCENTAGE OF PROGRAM COMPLETERS PASSING PRAXIS ASSESSMENTS FOR TEACHER LICENSURE

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS (2011-12)

State law requires all undergraduate teacher candidates to pass an assessment approved by the State to be admitted to a teacher preparation program. All teacher candidates must pass the Praxis I: Core Academic Skills assessments to enter teacher preparation programs and must obtain the required Praxis I cut-off scores that are required by the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education for new teachers to obtain a license to teach in Louisiana. Teacher candidates may also obtain an ACT composite score of 22 or a SAT combined verbal and math score of 1030 in lieu of the Praxis I assessments. State law also requires undergraduate teacher candidates to take all remaining State licensure assessments (i.e., Praxis II: Content Knowledge; Praxis Professional Knowledge) prior to graduation; however, the law does not require teacher candidates to pass the assessments. Individual universities have created policies that require all teacher candidates to meet all Louisiana teacher licensure requirements to obtain a degree in teacher education. Some universities allow students to appeal the university policy. Assessment results indicate that 99% of all new teachers who completed undergraduate teacher preparation programs in 2011-12 in Louisiana passed all licensure assessments to become certified to teach in Louisiana. Additional information about Praxis passage rates can be found in Section V within the 2013 Louisiana Title II Higher Education Act Report at the following URL: <https://title2.ed.gov/Public/Home.aspx>.

ALTERNATE PROGRAMS (2011-12)

Board of Elementary and Secondary Education policy requires all alternate teacher candidates to hold a baccalaureate degree and pass the Praxis I: Core Academic Skills assessments and Praxis II: Content Knowledge assessments to enter teacher preparation programs. They must obtain the Praxis I and Praxis II cut-off scores required by the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education for new teachers to be certified to teach. Teacher candidates may also have a Master’s Degree or obtain an ACT composite score of 22 or a SAT combined verbal and math score of 1030 in lieu of the Praxis I assessments. Board of Elementary and Secondary Education policy requires all alternate teacher candidates to pass the Praxis Professional Knowledge assessments to complete an alternate program. Assessment results indicate that 100% of all teachers who completed alternate teacher preparation programs in 2011-12 in Louisiana passed all of their licensure assessments to become certified to teach in Louisiana. UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS (2011-12)

All undergraduate teacher preparation programs in Louisiana require a minimum Grade Point Average of 2.5 for candidates to be admitted to a teacher preparation program. The median Grade Point Average of 2011-12 program completers ranged from a low of 2.70 to a high of 3.53 when they entered their teacher preparation programs. Candidates generally enter their teacher preparation programs during their sophomore or junior years. The median Grade Point Average of 2011-12 program completers ranged from a low of 2.8 to a high of 3.62 at the point when candidates completed their teacher preparation programs. A 4.0 is the highest value for a Grade Point Average.

Teacher candidates must meet criteria identified by the State and teacher preparation programs to be admitted and officially enrolled in an alternate teacher preparation programs. The criteria includes possession of a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution, passage of Praxis I and II assessments, a required GPA, and other entry requirements. Candidates enter one of three alternate pathways: Master of Arts in Teaching; Practitioner Teacher Program; or Certification-Only Program. Most alternate candidates teach full time as a teacher of record while being enrolled in their alternate certification programs. NUMBER OF HOURS FOR CLINICAL EXPERIENCES FOR TEACHER
PREPARATION PROGRAMS

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS (2011-12)

The Board of Elementary and Secondary Education (BESE) requires teacher candidates to spend a minimum of 270 clock hours in student teaching, with at least 180 of such hours spent in actual teaching. BESE requires that a substantial portion of the 180 hours be on an all-day basis. In addition to the student teaching experience, BESE states that students should be provided actual teaching experience (in addition to observations) in classroom settings during the sophomore, junior, and senior years within schools with varied socioeconomic and cultural characteristics. It is recommended by BESE that pre-service teachers be provided a minimum of 180 hours of direct teaching experience in field-based settings prior to student teaching. Student teaching generally occurs during one semester with a student being supervised by an experienced classroom teacher.

Information provided below identifies the actual number of clock hours required by each teacher preparation program prior to student teaching and during student teaching. The average number of actual clock hours required by programs for student teaching is 489 and ranges from 400 to 600 clock hours which exceeds the number of clock hours required by BESE. The average number of clock hours required by programs prior to student teaching is 202 and ranges from 180 to 273 which also exceed the number of clock hours identified by BESE.

NUMBER OF HOURS FOR CLINICAL EXPERIENCES FOR TEACHER PREPARATION PROGRAMS

ALTERNATE PROGRAMS (2011-12)

All alternate certification programs provide candidates with the opportunity to participate in a full time Internship which lasts for one full year while the teacher candidates serve as a teacher of record, teaches full time, and is paid as a full time teacher. School districts hire the teacher candidates once they obtain a Practitioner License from the Louisiana Department of Education and are enrolled in an alternate certification program.

Some alternate certification programs also allow candidates to participate in student teaching for a semester while being supervised by an experienced classroom teacher. The average number of clock hours of clinical experiences required by alternate programs prior to student teaching is 487, and the average number of clock hours required by programs prior to student teaching is 199. Both exceed the minimum number of clock hours identified by BESE.

PERSISTENCE IN TEACHING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Undergraduate and alternate program completers have the option of teaching in public schools in Louisiana, private schools in Louisiana, or schools in other states. It is not possible to track the retention of completers in private schools or out-of-state schools. The following two charts identify only the number and percentage of a cohort of program completers in 2007-08 who started teaching in public schools and who taught in public schools in Louisiana during the next five years. Completers not reflected in the following chart may be teaching in private schools in Louisiana or other states.

MEANS AND EFFECTIVENESS LEVELS FOR COMPASS EVALUATION SCORES

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

The Louisiana Department of Education states that “Compass” is Louisiana’s educator support and evaluation system designed to provide all educators with regular, meaningful feedback on their performance (<http://www.louisianabelieves.com/teaching/compass>). Under this system, every teacher in public schools in Louisiana is evaluated annually using a four-tiered rating – Highly Effective, Effective: Proficient, Effective: Emerging, and Ineffective. Half of the evaluation is based on achievement of student learning targets to generate the Compass Student Outcome score and half of the evaluation is based on observations by teachers’ supervisors using the appropriate Compass rubric to generate a Compass Professional Practice score. The two scores are combined to generate Compass Final Evaluation Scores that range from 1.00 to 4.00. The overall percentages of teachers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Final Evaluation Scores in each of the four levels in 2012-13 are the following: Highly Effective (32%); Effective: Proficient (57%); Effective: Emerging (8%); and Ineffective (4%). In 2012-13, there were 46,351 teachers teaching in public schools in Louisiana; however, data are not available to indicate the number of teachers that were evaluated using the Compass assessment.

The first chart on the next page identifies the mean Compass Final Evaluation scores of all first and second year teachers who taught in 2012-13 and completed undergraduate teacher preparation programs during or before 2011-12. In addition, it identifies the percentage of first and second year teachers who obtained Compass Final Evaluation scores in each of the four effectiveness levels after completing their undergraduate teacher preparation programs. The overall percentages of 2011-12 or earlier undergraduate program completers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Final Evaluation Scores in each of the four levels during their first or second year of teaching are the following: Highly Effective (20%); Effective: Proficient (64%); Effective: Emerging (12%); and Ineffective (5%).

The next chart identifies the mean Compass Professional Practice scores of all first and second year teachers who taught in 2012-13 and completed undergraduate teacher preparation programs during or before 2011-12. In addition, it identifies the percentage of first and second year teachers who obtained Compass Professional Practices scores in each of the four effectiveness levels after completing their undergraduate teacher preparation programs. The overall percentages of 2011-12 or earlier program completers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Professional Practices Scores in each of the four levels during their first or second year of teaching are the following: Highly Effective (15%); Effective: Proficient (69%); Effective: Emerging (15%); and Ineffective (Less than 1%).

The third chart identifies the mean Compass Student Outcome scores of all first and second year teachers who taught in 2012-13 and completed undergraduate teacher preparation programs during or before 2011-12. In addition, it identifies the percentage of first and second year teachers who obtained Compass Student Outcome scores in each of the four effectiveness levels after completing their undergraduate teacher preparation programs. The overall percentages of 2011-12 or earlier program completers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Student Outcome Scores in each of the four levels during their first or second year of teaching are the following: Highly Effective (44%); Effective: Proficient (34%); Effective: Emerging (17%); and Ineffective (4%).

The Louisiana Department of Education has provided information regarding school districts that held teachers to higher expectations for teaching during 2012-13. Information pertaining to those school districts can be found at the following URL: <http://www.louisianabelieves.com/newsroom/news-releases/2014/10/22/annual-report-shows-districts-and-schools-making-academic-progress-have-higher-expectations-for-classroom-observations>. Differences in district expectations can impact percentages for teacher preparation programs whose completers primarily teach in districts with higher or lower expectations.

MEANS AND EFFECTIVENESS LEVELS FOR COMPASS SCORES

ALTERNATE PROGRAMS

The Louisiana Department of Education states that Compass is Louisiana's educator support and evaluation system designed to provide all educators with regular, meaningful feedback on their performance (<http://www.louisianabelieves.com/teaching/compass>). Under this system, every teacher in public schools in Louisiana is evaluated annually using a four-tiered rating – Highly Effective, Effective: Proficient, Effective: Emerging, and Ineffective. Half of the evaluation is based on achievement of student learning targets to generate the Compass Student Outcome score and half of the evaluation is based on observations by their supervisor using the appropriate Compass rubric to generate a Compass Professional Practice score. The two scores are averaged to generate a Compass Final Evaluation Scores that ranges from 1.00 to 4.00. The overall percentages of teachers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Final Evaluation Scores in each of the four levels are the following: Highly Effective (32%); Effective: Proficient (57%); Effective: Emerging (8%); and Ineffective (4%). In 2012-13, there were 46,351 teachers teaching in public schools in Louisiana; however, data are not available to indicate the number of teachers that were evaluated using the Compass assessment.

The chart on the next page identifies the mean Compass Final Evaluation scores of all first and second year teachers who taught in 2012-13 and completed alternate teacher preparation programs during or before 2011-12. In addition, it identifies the percentage of first and second year teachers who obtained Compass Final Evaluation scores in each of the four effectiveness levels after completing their alternate teacher preparation programs. The overall percentages of 2011-12 or earlier alternate program completers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Final Evaluation Scores in each of the four levels during their first or second year of teaching are the following: Highly Effective (28%); Effective: Proficient (58%); Effective: Emerging (9%); and Ineffective (5%).

The next chart identifies the mean Compass Professional Practice scores of all first and second year teachers who taught in 2012-13 and completed alternate teacher preparation programs during or before 2011-12. In addition, the following chart identifies the percentage of first and second year teachers who obtained Compass Professional Practices scores in each of the four effectiveness levels after completing their alternate teacher preparation programs. The overall percentages of 2011-12 or earlier alternate program completers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Professional Practices Scores in each of the four levels during their first or second year of teaching are the following: Highly Effective (22%); Effective: Proficient (67%); Effective: Emerging (11%); and Ineffective (Less than 1%).

The last chart identifies the mean Compass Student Outcome scores of all first and second year teachers who taught in 2012-13 and completed alternate teacher preparation programs during or before 2011-12. In addition, it identifies the percentage of first and second year teachers who obtained Compass Student Outcome scores in each of the four effectiveness levels after completing their alternate teacher preparation programs. The overall percentages of 2011-12 or earlier alternate program completers in Louisiana who obtained Compass Student Outcome Scores in each of the four levels during their first or second year of teaching are the following: Highly Effective (46%); Effective: Proficient (33%); Effective: Emerging (15%); and Ineffective (5%).

The Louisiana Department of Education has provided information regarding school districts that held teachers to higher expectations for teaching during 2012-13. Information pertaining to those school districts can be found at the following URL: <http://www.louisianabelieves.com/newsroom/news-releases/2014/10/22/annual-report-shows-districts-and-schools-making-academic-progress-have-higher-expectations-for-classroom-observations>. Differences in district expectations can impact percentages for teacher preparation programs whose completers primarily teach in districts with higher or lower expectations.

VALUE-ADDED EVALUATION OF LOUISIANA TEACHER PREPARATION PROGRAMS
FOR ACADEMIC YEARS ENDING 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, AND 2013

Value-added scores have been calculated by the Louisiana Department of Education for all teachers whose students are assessed for mathematics, science, social studies, and language arts in grades 4-8. Value-added scores have been identified for first and second year teachers who have completed Elementary (Grades 1-5), Middle School (Grades 4-8), or Secondary (Grades 6-12) teacher preparation programs and are teaching in the areas of certification that they were prepared to teach. Data have only been provided if there are 25 or more value-added scores for first and second year teachers for each content area. In some cases, the same teacher may have value-added scores for different content areas. As an example, an elementary teacher is responsible for teaching math, science, social studies, and language arts and may have value-added scores calculated for each of those content areas based upon growth in achievement of their students in the individual content areas. In the case of a middle school teacher responsible for teaching science, they will have a value-added score calculated for their students just in the area of science.

On the following pages, all means describe the performance of the group listed in the left column; means, *N*s, and standard errors of the mean appear in the same row for each group. The value added score means were calculated using the Louisiana Department of Education hierarchical linear models which is described at the following URL:

<http://www.regents.la.gov/assets/docs/2013/09/LegislativeValueAddedReportFeb2011FINAL-Yr8.pdf>.

The value-added scores are rounded to the nearest tenth of a point. The means for new teachers are calculated for all teachers in a given content area who are teaching in their first or second year. If a program had 25 or more new teachers with data in 3 years, the 3-year means are reported; if the program had 25 or more new teachers with 4 years of data, those means are reported; if the program had 25 or more new teachers with 5 years of data, those means are reported. Teachers from Louisiana TPPs are only counted as new from a TPP if they are five years or less from their program completion date. Data are not reported if institutions have less than 25 new teachers in a content area.

The Louisiana Department of Education has prepared tables that identify the distribution of value-added scores for all individual teachers for each academic year across the four teacher effectiveness levels for the Compass teacher evaluation system. The distribution table for 2012-13 has been provided below. As an example, if a teacher obtained a value-added score of 1.9 in Language Arts based upon the growth of achievement of their students, the score would be in the Effective Proficient range. If they obtained a value-added score of -11.2 in Language Arts, their value-added score would be in the Ineffective range.
